Yanela Frias

President, Group Insurance at Prudential Financial Westwood

Summary

At Prudential, we make lives better by helping solve the financial challenges of our changing world.

Yanela Frias is an advocate for increasing financial wellness and resiliency for millions of individuals, employers and associations. As president of Prudential Group Insurance, she is helping to elevate the role of non-medical workplace benefits to help more Americans protect their income, safeguard their families and better care for themselves and loved ones.

Prudential Group Insurance manufactures and distributes a full range of group life insurance, disability insurance and voluntary benefits in the U.S. to institutional clients primarily for use within employee and membership benefit plans. The business also provides administrative services for its insurance coverages as well as for employee paid and unpaid leave, including FMLA, ADA and PFL.
